This is a line.

To some, it is seen as a constraint. A limitation. A barrier.

To others, it is a point where the past is abandoned in favor of the future.

RINGTHEBELL on Archive.org

The Toyota Supra. It's taken everything sports cars were before and crossed the line.

Wind in the face. Steering with the throttle. Shift levers that had to be persuaded into first. More power than brakes. Heaters that only worked when the sun shined.

Sports Cars. For decades drivers wrinkled their suits and burned their shoes to experience the irony of how so many shortcomings added up to so much driving pleasure.

But now there's a sports car dedicated to the proposition that performance and civilized driving do not have to be mutually exclusive.

The revolutionary Toyota Supra. The cornerstone of Supra's performance is a world-class power-to-weight ratio. Its 3.0-liter, 24-valve inline-6 with twin-sequential turbochargers delivers 320 horsepower (220 horsepower in the normally aspirated model). And, mated to a 6-speed transmission, propels the Turbo from zero to sixty in 4.6 seconds.*

Double-wishbone suspension, 4-wheel/4-channel Anti-lock Brake System (ABS) with ventilated discs and dual air bags help make Supra as reassuring to drive as it is fast.

Ultimately, though, the real meaning of a sports car is found in the driving. And that's why crossing the line wasn't just an end. It was a beginning.

JERRY BUSS

Owner

Jerry Buss purchased the Los Angeles Lakers, the Los Angeles Kings of the National Hockey League, The Forum and a 13,000-acre Kern County ranch in June, 1979, for $67.5 million in what was then the largest sports transaction of all-time.

In the 14 years of his ownership, the Lakers have enjoyed an era of success the rival of any in professional sports. In this span, the Lakers have won five world championships and reached the world-championship series nine times. They have won nearly 70 percent of their games (.692), averaging over 56 wins a season and are 29-9 in playoff series.

A graduate of the University of Wyoming with a Bachelor's degree, Buss earned his Ph.D. in Chemistry from the University of Southern California. After a brief career in the aerospace industry, Buss and Frank Mariani, an aerospace engineer, used their scientific training and facility with mathematics to launch a career in real estate. They parlayed an original $1,000 investment in a West Los Angeles apartment building into what became a multi-hundred-million-dollar real estate business at its height.

However, since his emergence into major league sports, Buss has reduced his involvement in real estate and has increased his activity in sports. He has initiated many innovative changes in the marketing of the Lakers and other events at The Forum, including a major advertising agreement with Great Western Bank that has resulted in the facility being renamed The Great Western Forum.

In 1985, Buss and Bill Daniels launched Prime Ticket Network, now one the premier regional sports cable television networks.

Buss' four adult children are involved in his business operations. Jeanie is President of Forum Sports, Inc. She stages and promotes all tennis and volleyball events, including the Los Angeles Strings, as well as professional roller hockey (L.A. Blades) and indoor soccer (L.A. United). As director of Special Events, Janie directs the Great Western Freeze-Out college hockey tournament, the rodeo and other events. Jim presides over the World Championship Stables, the Buss thoroughbred horse racing operation, while John heads up selected special activities his father is involved with, including "A Magic Weekend" card and sports memorabilia show in 1992, which raised money for AIDS research.

Jerry Buss has great feeling for people and is an active supporter of literally hundreds of charitable and community serving organizations yearly. He is most diligent in his support of education and of the disadvantaged young and elderly.

JERRY WEST

General Manager

Having proven to be every bit as successful as an executive in the Lakers' front office as he once was as a Hall of Fame player in their backcourt, Jerry West begins his 12th year as General Manager of the club in 1993-94. During his prosperous tenure as GM, the Lakers have averaged more than 56 wins a season (more than any other NBA team during this period), highlighted by three NBA championships (1985, 1987, 1988).

However, success within the marriage of Jerry West and the Lakers is nothing new. Since the Lakers moved to Los Angeles in 1960, the club has qualified for post-season play in all but two seasons (1974-75, 1975-76), which were, not coincidentally, the only two campaigns in which he was not affiliated with the club.

Fittingly dubbed "Mr. Clutch" because of his uncanny ability to produce with the game on the line, West established himself as one of the greatest players in NBA history throughout his brilliant 14-year career. Spending each of those 14 seasons with the Lakers, he led the team in scoring seven times, averaging over 30 points four different seasons. In fact, Jerry has the unique distinction of boasting the highest scoring average in league history for a player over 30 years of age (31.2 in 1969-70, 31 years old). When he retired following the 1973-74 campaign, he had become only the third player in league history to surpass the 25,000 point plateau, finishing with a career scoring average of 27.0, which ranks fourth-best in NBA history.

The Lakers' all-time scoring leader and the eighth leading scorer in league history (25,192), West was the NBA's all-time playoff leader in points (4,457) and assists (970) until Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and Earvin Johnson, respectively, eclipsed his totals. His 29.1 playoff scoring average is second highest in NBA history, trailing only Chicago's Michael Jordan (34.7).

Included among Jerry's many outstanding accomplishments as a player were several incredible feats, notably the compiling of a 40.6 scoring average during the 1965 playoffs (including an all-time NBA record 46.3 average during a six- game series vs. Baltimore), and the sinking of a 60-foot shot to send Game 3 of the 1970 Championship Series against the New York Knicks into overtime. He was also a member of the Lakers' first NBA championship team in 1972, helping lead Los Angeles to a 69-13 regular season record and a 33-game winning streak, both all-time league records. Additionally, he led the NBA in assists (9.7 apg) during the 1971-72 campaign.

In addition to being selected to the All-NBA first team 10 times and the NBA's All-Defensive first team four times, West was selected to play in 13 consecutive All-Star games during his career, capturing MVP honors in the 1972 classic at The Forum. Elected to the Basketball Hall of Fame in 1979 and named to the NBA's 35th Anniversary Team in 1980, Jerry also has the distinction of being named playoff MVP in 1969 despite playing for the losing team.

After retiring prior to the 1974-75 season, he returned to the Lakers for the 1976-77 campaign, replacing Bill Sharman as the club's head coach. In his initial year as coach, the Lakers posted an NBA-best 53-29 record and began what is now the longest active streak in the league, qualifying for the playoffs for the first of 17 consecutive seasons. Overall, the Lakers posted a 145-101 record during his three seasons at the helm.

Following the 1978-79 campaign, West served the Lakers for three years as a special consultant, with the primary responsibility of scouting college players. Prior to the 1982-83 season he was elevated to his present position as the club's General Manager, where he oversees the day-to-day operation of the club and all player personnel decisions.

West attended West Virginia University, where as a two-time All-American, he concluded his collegiate career with a 24.8 scoring average. Following his senior year, he became the Lakers' first round pick (first-ever pick in LA Lakers history) in the 1960 college draft (second overall). Before entering the NBA, Jerry served as co-captain of the gold- medal winning U.S. Olympic basketball team in Rome in 1960, a squad generally touted as the greatest in Olympic history prior to the formation of the "Dream Team" in 1992. He was also a member of the victorious U.S. squad in the 1958 Pan American Games.

Born on May 28, 1938 in Chelyan, West Virginia, West first drew national attention as a high school star. As a senior at East Bank High School, he led his team to the state title and became the first player in the state's history to score over 900 points in a season, averaging 32.2 ppg.

Jerry and his wife Karen reside in Bel Air with their sons, Ryan and Jonathan. Jerry has three other sons, David, Mark and Michael, from a previous marriage.

MITCHELL KUPCHAK

Assistant General Manager

Beginning his eighth season as the Lakers' Assistant General Manager, Mitch Kupchak continues to provide the club with his invaluable knowledge of the NBA and its players, in addition to the utilization of his top-notch management skills. As Jerry West's right-hand man, Mitch is highly regarded among his peers, having established himself as one of the top assistant GMs in the league.

His main priorities range from the organization of the club's training camp and pre-season schedule, to overseeing the Lakers' entry in the annual Southern California Summer Pro League. He also assists in the day-to-day management of the club (personnel decisions, contract negotiations, etc.) and the scouting of collegiate players. Mitch spends numerous hours each year evaluating top collegiate prospects, especially those on the west coast.

Mitch was a first-round draft choice of the Washington Bullets in 1976 (13th overall). He spent the first five years of his career with the Bullets, earning NBA All-Rookie Team honors following the 1976-77 campaign. He posted a career-best field goal percentage during his rookie season (.572), a figure which at that time represented the 10th highest in league history. During the 1977-78 campaign, Mitch played a major role in Washington's drive to the NBA championship, posting a career-high scoring average (15.9) and finishing third on the club in rebounding (7.4). Ironically, he tallied a career-high-tying 32 points against the Lakers on November 24, 1978, and his scoring average that season (14.6) ranked second among all NBA reserves.

Following his stint with the Bullets, Mitch was acquired by the Lakers on August 5, 1981 in exchange for Jim Chones, Brad Holland and a pair of draft choices. A reserve during his five-year tenure with the Bullets, Mitch was a member of the club's starting lineup during the first 26 games of the 1981-82 campaign, averaging 14.3 points and 8.1 rebounds. Unfortunately, after the club had posted a 19-7 record, Mitch suffered multiple injuries to his left knee during a game at San Diego on December 19, an injury which required two major operations. It was feared - even expected - that he would never play again. However, he proved the doctors wrong by returning to the Lakers in November of 1983 after undergoing intense daily therapy for 16 months.

His persistence and dedication paid off, as he played a vital role in the Lakers' march to the NBA title in 1985, allowing him to become one of only 15 players in league history to win an NBA championship with two different clubs (Washington and Los Angeles). Additionally, he remains one of only four players in Lakers' history to convert at least 10 field goals in a game without a miss (11-11 vs. San Antonio 11/20/81, joining Wilt Chamberlain, Kareem Abdul- Jabbar and Byron Scott).

Prior to the start of the 1986-87 campaign, after another lengthy rehabilitation following arthroscopic knee surgery, Mitch retired as a player and assumed his present position. He concluded his NBA career averaging 10.2 points and 5.4 rebounds.

When Mitch signed to play with the Lakers in the summer of 1981, one of the provisions in his long-term contract was that he would continue to work for Lakers owner Dr. Jerry Buss in some capacity following his playing career. In preparation for that career move, he studied for an MBA degree at UCLA during his spare time, and received that degree in February, 1987.

Mitch was born in Hicksville, New York on May 24, 1954 and starred at Brentwood High School on Long Island. He was an All-America standout at the University of North Carolina, earning ACC Player of the Year honors as a senior when he averaged 17.6 points and 11.3 rebounds. To this day, Mitch lives and dies with the success of the Tar Heels' basketball program, continuing his close relationship with UNC coach Dean Smith.

Prior to his initial NBA campaign, he was the starting center on the gold-medal winning U.S. team in the 1976 Olympics, and was also a member of the gold-medal winning U.S. team in the 1973 World University Games.

Mitch and his wife Claire live in Brentwood with their lovable dogs, Sidney and Sam, and their cat, Portia.

MICHAEL COOPER

Special Assistant to the General Manager

Continuing to exhibit the tireless enthusiasm and energy he displayed on the court for 12 brilliant seasons, Michael Cooper begins his third year in the club's front office, serving as Special Assistant to General Manager Jerry West.

One of the most popular players in Lakers franchise history, Cooper returned to the organization two years ago following a one year sabbatical. During his absence, the Pasadena native concluded his playing career in Italy, playing for Il Messagero Roma of the Italian League during the 1990-91 season.

Cooper's duties include the scouting of college and CBA players, participating in summer league activities, and assisting Jerry West, Mitch Kupchak and the coaching staff in the evaluation of talent. He is also actively involved in community service work, where he represents the Lakers as a guest speaker at civic and charity events. In addition, he is involved in sponsor relations and marketing activities for the club.

Cooper began his playing career with the Lakers in 1978 as a third-round draft choice (60th overall) from the University of New Mexico, where he earned All-America honors as a senior. One of only five players in Los Angeles franchise history to play for the club after being drafted lower than 59th overall, he began his collegiate career at Pasadena City College, where he played for two years and averaged a career-best 20.2 ppg as a sophomore. The durable swingman rarely missed a game after his initial two NBA seasons, during which time he was inactive his entire rookie campaign and all but three games of his second year after suffering a torn knee ligament in a summer league contest. He appeared in each of the club's 82 regular season games six times, including 455 consecutive from 1982-88.

Cooper was a vital member of five World Championship teams with the Lakers (1980, 1982, 1985, 1987, 1988) and retired after the 1990 season ranked among the club's all-time leaders in a number of statistical categories: first in three-point field goals (378); third in games played (793); fifth in minutes (21,784); second in steals (966); third in blocked shots (487); fourth in assists (3,451); fifth in defensive rebounds (1,860); seventh in offensive rebounds (682); and sixth in free throw percentage (.829). He also retired as the NBA's all-time playoff leader in three-point field goals made (121) and attempted (304, both since surpassed by Danny Ainge) and fourth in NBA playoff games played (159).

He was best known for his tenacious defense however, and was dubbed by former Boston Celtics superstar Larry Bird as the greatest defensive player he had ever competed against. He was a member of the league's All-Defensive First Team five times and named the NBA's Defensive Player of the Year in 1987, becoming the lone player in franchise history to capture that award.

The 37 year-old Cooper runs an annual summer camp for children in Albuquerque, New Mexico, as his involvement in charity work extends back to his rookie year as a player. His efforts in community and charity work were so exceptional, in fact, that he was honored in 1986 as co-recipient (with Rory Sparrow) of the NBA's J. Walter Kennedy Citizenship Award.

This past summer, the former defensive standout established the new Michael Cooper Foundation, a non-profit organization designed to assist children in a variety of ways, including through the implementation of a special nutritional program in Los Angeles area schools. One particular message Michael and the foundation attempts to deliver is the importance of youngsters attaining career goals through "Coop's Five D's", which stress determination, dedication, desire, discipline and decision-making as necessary intangibles when striving for success. Additionally, he plans to implement a new program - Coop's Kids for Kids - throughout selected Los Angeles schools this season.

Michael and his wife, Wanda, live in Los Angeles with their daughter, Simone, and their sons, Michael II and Miles.

BILL SHARMAN

Consultant

Although most superstitious individuals will agree that the number 13 is something to be avoided, Lakers' Special Consultant Bill Sharman is hoping he can attain a very special prize in life for an incomprehensible 13th time - another championship ring.

Beginning his fourth year in his present capacity, Bill provides the Lakers' front office with a tremendous amount of basketball experience and a history of success that is unparalleled in the business. Since beginning his professional career in 1950, the Abilene, Texas native has been an integral member of a championship winning team on 12 occasions, either as a player, coach or executive. The dozen titles have been captured with four different teams, in three respective leagues and in four separate capacities.

Bill began his championship odyssey with the Boston Celtics, capturing the first of four league titles as an active player in 1957. During his 10-year stint with the Celtics, Boston won four league titles (1957, 1959, 1960, 1961), finished in first place five times and never suffered through a losing season. He earned All-NBA honors seven times and participated in eight All-Star Games, earning MVP accolades in the 1955 contest. Arguably the greatest shooter during his era, Bill was the first guard to post a field goal percentage above .400 for a season (.436, 1952-53) and his .884 career free throw percentage is still among the league's all-time leaders. He spent his entire career with the Celtics, except for a brief stint with the Washington Capitals during his rookie campaign. He was elected into the NBA's Hall of Fame in 1974, concluding his career with averages of 17.8 points and 3.0 assists.

After retiring from the Celtics in 1961, Bill began his distinguished coaching career in the American Basketball League, winning his fifth championship overall in 1962 with the Cleveland Pipers. Nine years later, he won an ABA crown as coach of the Utah Stars (1970-71). One season after coaching the Stars to the ABA league title, Bill guided the 1971-72 Lakers to the NBA championship, the first for the franchise in Los Angeles history. The 1971-72 club posted an all-time NBA-best 69-13 regular season record, highlighted by a professional sports record of 33 consecutive wins. In seven seasons as an NBA head coach (three with the San Francisco Warriors and four with the Lakers), Bill's teams accumulated an impressive 330-240 record (.581).

Following his coaching career, Bill directed his efforts to the front office, serving as General Manager of the Lakers from 1975-82. During his tenure as GM, the Lakers claimed two NBA titles (1980 and 1982). He then assumed the role of club President (winning three additional titles) for seven years (1982-90) prior to being appointed to his present position.

Although Bill is renowned for his outstanding accomplishments as a professional basketball player and executive, he enjoyed an immensely successful athletic career as both a collegian and high school student. After spending two years in the Navy following high school, Bill enrolled at USC, where he earned a starting assignment on both the Trojans' basketball and baseball teams as a freshman. He was a two-time basketball All-American, but elected to leave school early after signing a contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Although he never played in a major league contest, Bill became part of baseball history on two occasions during the 1951 season. First, he earned the dubious distinction of having been ejected from a major league game despite never making an official appearance in one (bench clearing brawl). Later that same season, he was in the Dodgers' dugout when Billy Thompson hit the dramatic home run to lead the New York Giants into the World Series.

Following his abbreviated baseball career, Bill was selected by the NBA's Washington Capitals in the second round of the 1950 draft. After appearing in 31 games during his rookie campaign with the Capitals, he was selected by the Fort Wayne Pistons in the 1951 dispersal draft, but was later traded to the Celtics.

Competing in football, baseball, track and basketball at Porterville (CA) High School, Bill still managed to find time to win the state amateur tennis title. He earned a total of 15 varsity letters in high school and was named California's Outstanding High School Athlete in 1944.

Bill and his wife Joyce live in Marina Del Rey. He has two daughters, Nancy and Janice, and two sons, Tom and Jerry, from a previous marriage.

RANDY PFUND

Head Coach

Although his first season as head coach of the Lakers was symbolized by a plethora of peaks and valleys, Randy Pfund certainly completed the 1992-93 campaign in impressive fashion, leading the Lakers to their 17th consecutive post- season appearance and a remarkable playoff performance that captured the attention of the entire NBA.

After leading the Lakers to a 39-43 regular season mark, Randy saved his best for last. Expected to be severely overmatched by the Phoenix Suns in the first round of the playoffs, Pfund's club came within an eyelash of upsetting the eventual Western Conference champions before succumbing in overtime of the decisive fifth game. Nonetheless, his club did become the first number-eight seeded playoff team to secure a victory on the home court of a number-one seed, capturing games 1 & 2 at Phoenix.

Such a performance should come as no surprise, considering one of Randy's former mentors and biggest coaching influence, Pat Riley, is the all-time winningest coach in NBA playoff history (percentage basis). Obviously, Randy learned his lessons well, which is quite possibly the reason Riley attempted to persuade his former assistant to join him in New York in the summer of 1991 while Pfund was serving in that same capacity under Mike Dunleavy.

Generally regarded as one of the bright young assistants at the time of Riley's inquiry, Randy displayed his loyalty to the Lakers, electing to remain with the franchise that gave him his initial NBA job in 1985. The Wheaton, Illinois native had a strong sense that if he continued to work diligently with a successful organization such as the Lakers, his day in the sun would eventually come.

He was right. When Dunleavy decided to accept an offer from Milwaukee to become the Bucks' head coach following the 1991-92 season, Lakers' General Manager Jerry West simply looked down the hall from his office to find a worthy and deserving candidate.

On May 18, 1992, the Lakers named Pfund as the club's 10th head coach in Los Angeles franchise history. Last season, the 41-year old Pfund became the club's third successive head coach to enter the position without any previous head coaching experience, excluding high school.

In the mid-1970s Randy found himself working as a high school teacher and coach in Illinois. While serving in that capacity for two years, he wrote numerous letters to selected college coaches around the country, inquiring about the possibility of working as a graduate assistant. Of the responses he received, only one offered any form of hope, and that came from Chet Kammerer, the coach at Westmont College in Santa Barbara.

Kammerer, who 16 years later now finds himself as an assistant under Pfund with the Lakers, explained in his reply to the eager youngster that he would be welcomed to join the staff, but as an unpaid volunteer assistant. Figuring the gamble was worth the risk, Randy quit his job in Illinois and headed West. During his third year at Westmont, he joined the staff on a full-time basis and began receiving compensation for his efforts.

During his tenure at Westmont, Randy became familiar with another Santa Barbara resident involved with coaching, Bill Bertka, who hired Pfund on a part-time basis for his scouting service. Impressed with his work, Bertka recommended Pfund to then Lakers coach Riley when Dave Wohl resigned as an assistant prior to the 1985-86 season. Riley eventually hired Randy, citing his scouting and administrative experience as major factors in the decision. He remained in that position for seven years (five under Riley, two under Dunleavy), during which time the club won a pair of championships ('87, '88).

As a youngster, Randy starred in basketball and football at North High School in Wheaton, Illinois. He earned honorable mention All-America honors in basketball at Wheaton College, where his father, Lee, was head coach.

Randy is single and lives in Santa Monica.

BILL BERTKA

Assistant Coach

Having been associated with the game of basketball for 40-plus seasons, long-time Lakers' assistant Bill Bertka spearheads coach Randy Pfund's support staff with a wealth of experience that is duplicated by few in the profession. In fact, Bill has accrued more years of service as an assistant NBA coach (21) than any understudy currently active in the league.

The veteran coach has enjoyed a long and distinguished basketball career, which began as a player at Kent State University. Following a stint playing in the now-defunct National Industrial Basketball League, Bill embarked on what would be a fulfilling career in the coaching and scouting aspects of the business.

He served as head coach at Hancock College in Santa Maria from 1954-57, leading the team to a 97-13 record overall, including a 42-game winning streak and a Junior College State Championship in 1957. Prior to his stint in the professional ranks, he returned to his alma mater, where he served as head coach for four years and helped elevate Kent State's program to the major-college level.

Bill, 66, is actually in his second tour of duty with the Lakers. He originally joined the club in 1968, serving as the club's chief scout and director of player personnel, a position he held for six years. He did an abundance of scouting for the 1971-72 Lakers team that posted an all-time NBA-best 69-13 record and won a professional sports record 33 consecutive games. In 1974, Bertka joined the expansion New Orleans Jazz and served the club in a variety of roles, including that of general manager, director of player personnel and assistant coach. He was the primary architect for the Jazz franchise during the first eight years of the team's existence, before rejoining the Lakers early in the 1981-82 campaign. During his latest stint with the Lakers, the club has won four NBA championships, including back-to- back titles during the 1986-87 and 1987-88 seasons.

A firm believer in utilizing statistical information when evaluating the performance and tendencies of a player, Bill spends countless hours preparing data-filled reports for the Lakers' coaching staff. Similarly, the Santa Barbara native is well known as the founder of Bertka Views, one of the most successful college scouting services in the country, now operated by his wife, Solveig. Many of the nation's premier college basketball programs utilize Bertka Views as their sole scouting service. In the early 1980s, Bill added an eager youngster by the name of Randy Pfund to his scouting staff, a decision that later helped the would-be Laker coach land his initial NBA job.

During the summer of 1992, Bill added another feather to his cap, serving as a scout for the United States' Olympic basketball team at the European Qualifying Tournament in Zaragoza, Spain.

Bill had the double distinction in 1989 of being inducted into a Hall of Fame in each of his hometowns. In May, he was inducted into the Santa Barbara Sports Hall of Fame, where he makes his present home. In October, he was inducted into the Summit County (Ohio) Sports Hall of Fame, where he grew up as a child.

Bill and Solveig have two married daughters, Britt (wife of former Lakers' assistant coach Jim Eyen) and Kris, and make their home in Santa Barbara.

LARRY DREW

Assistant Coach

Beginning his second season as an assistant coach with the Lakers, Larry Drew will continue to provide the club's young nucleus with the invaluable insights and knowledge he garnered as a former player. As the lone member of the coaching staff with actual NBA playing experience, he brings an abundance of professional on-court wisdom to coach Randy Pfund's staff, including his familiarity with the Lakers' system.

In addition to his coaching duties with the Lakers, Larry is responsible for the team's advance scouting, spending a large portion of his time on the road analyzing upcoming opponents. It's not uncommon for Larry to witness five games in five different NBA cities during selected weeks of the season.

Prior to beginning a successful 10-year NBA career, Drew was an honorable mention All-American at the University of Missouri (1976-80), averaging a career-best 15.2 points during his junior season. He finished his collegiate career having started a school-record 104 consecutive games, ranking first all-time in Tiger history in assists and second all-time in points.

Drew, 35, was originally a first round draft choice of the Detroit Pistons in 1980, the 17th player chosen overall. After spending his initial professional campaign with the Pistons, he spent subsequent seasons in Kansas City, Sacramento and Los Angeles (Clippers and Lakers). Larry enjoyed his most prosperous NBA campaign in 1982-83, averaging a career-high 20.1 points per game with Kansas City.

Following a year with Scavolini Pesaro of the Italian League (1988-89), Larry concluded his NBA career with the Lakers, playing a backup role on both the 1989-90 and 1990- 91 clubs. He remains the Lakers' all-time leader in three-point field goal percentage (.404). Larry concluded his NBA career having played in a total of 714 NBA contests, averaging 11.4 points and 5.2 assists.

Two years ago, he served as Vice President of the Magic Johnson Foundation Inc. In that capacity, Larry was responsible for managing the activities of the foundation, including fund raising, AIDS education awareness and the distribution of grants.

Larry and his wife, Sharon, live in Encino with their only child, Larry Donnell II.

CHET KAMMERER

Assistant Coach

After spending the previous 20-plus years as a head coach in the collegiate ranks, Chet Kammerer elected to make a career change prior to last season, joining Randy Pfund's staff as an assistant coach with the Lakers. Having adjusted to his new surroundings, Chet begins his second campaign with the club in 1993-94, hoping to duplicate some of the success he enjoyed in college.

Although Chet's impressive collegiate record may have been the overriding factor in the Lakers' decision to hire him, his willingness to give a youngster, notably Randy Pfund, the chance to begin his career several years ago certainly helped.

During the mid-1970's, Pfund, then an aspiring basketball coach, began sending letters to various college coaches around the country in hopes of landing a job. Despite his continuous efforts, he received only one positive response - from Chet Kammerer, the head coach at Westmont College in Santa Barbara.

Some 15 years later, that reply turned out to be one of the best moves the 51 year-old Kammerer has ever made. When Pfund, who served as an assistant under Kammerer at Westmont for eight years, was named head coach of the Lakers in May of 1992, he tapped his friend and former mentor to join him in the NBA.

Kammerer provides the Lakers with a wealth of coaching experience, having spent 27 years as a head coach at the collegiate level. Prior to last season, he served as Head Coach and Athletic Director at Westmont for 17 years, where his teams recorded a 359-156 record and won five NAIA District 3 Championships. During his tenure at Westmont, Chet was named Coach of the Year 13 times by various organizations.

As Athletic Director, he brought success to the Westmont athletic program, as the school captured 2 NAIA national championships and 33 District 3 titles. Instrumental in establishing the Golden State Athletic Conference, Chet was named chairman of the District 3 Executive Committee, a post he held from 1987-1990.

Prior to accepting the Westmont job in 1975, the Warsaw, Indiana native began his head coaching career in 1965 at Grace College (IN), where his clubs posted a 183-100 mark during his 10-year stay at the school. In compiling an overall 542-256 coaching record (.679), Chet's collegiate teams averaged over 20 victories a season.

Born July 24, 1942, Chet received his bachelor's degree from Grace College in 1964 and his master's from Ball State in 1966. He was a three-year basketball letterman at Grace, scoring an Indiana Inter-Collegiate single-season record 737 points in 1964. Additionally, he was named NAIA honorable mention All-America in 1964 and was named to the All-Conference team from 1961-64.

Chet and his wife Sherill live in Manhattan Beach with their three children, Chad, Shanda and Shariss.

GARY VITTI

Trainer

Entering his tenth season as the Lakers' trainer, Gary Vitti monitors the health of the club throughout the year using state-of-the-art methods in conditioning, dieting, stretching and testing. Having completed nearly a decade's worth of service with the Lakers, Gary has accrued more seniority with the team than all but one trainer in club history (Frank O'Neill).

The 39-year old native of Stamford, Connecticut is responsible for the care, prevention and treatment of injuries to Laker players, assuring the coaching staff that each athlete is in the best possible condition when called upon. However, his duties don't end there. He oversees the club's transportation and accommodations on the road, as well as arranging the team's practice schedule.

Gary earned his B.S. degree from Southern Connecticut State in 1976 and his M.S. degree in sports medicine from the University of Utah in 1982.

In addition to studying at the University of Utah, he spent two years as the school's trainer and also worked as an assistant trainer with the NBA's Utah Jazz (1981-1982). Following his stint with the Jazz, Gary then served as head athletic trainer at the University of Portland for two years before joining the Lakers prior to the 1984-85 campaign. He was named the National Basketball Association's Trainer of the Year in 1991 by the NBA's Trainers Association.

Having earned a reputation as one of the top trainers in the country, Gary's services are well in demand. Complementing his NBA duties, he has also served as lead trainer for numerous other sporting events since 1984, including Los Angeles Strings Tennis, the Los Angeles Summer Pro League and several summer basketball camps throughout the country. Additionally, he is a frequent visitor on the lecture tour, sharing his wisdom at a number of athletic seminars and workshops each year.

Gary has also supervised physiological profile studies published in English and Japanese and has written a monthly column for "Sports Medicine Digest." He also wrote a sports medicine column for the Los Angeles Times syndicate three years ago and produced a conditioning video during the summer of 1992 called "Training for Excellence."

Gary and his wife Chris live in Manhattan Beach with their two daughters, Rachel and Emilia.

RONNIE LESTER

Scout

Beginning his sixth season as a scout for the Lakers, Ronnie Lester will continue to work out of his home in Skokie, Illinois, where he is responsible for scouting collegiate talent, primarily in the Midwest part of the country.

Ronnie earned All-America honors at the University of Iowa, where the Hawkeyes retired his uniform after he became the school's all-time leader in scoring and assists. He was a first-round draft choice of the Portland Trail Blazers in 1980 (10th overall) and was traded on draft day to his hometown of Chicago to play for the Bulls. He played with Chicago for four years, enjoying his best season in 1981-82 when he averaged 11.6 points and 4.8 assists, starting 74 of 75 outings.

Ronnie spent the final two seasons of his injury-plagued, six-year NBA career with the Lakers. He signed as a free agent with the club on November 29, 1984 and appeared in 59 regular-season and nine playoff games during his two seasons with the Lakers and was a member of the club's 1985 NBA Championship team.

Ronnie and his girlfriend, Lois, live with their daughter, Alexis, in Skokie, Illinois.

GENE TORMOHLEN

Scout

Although his efficient scouting reports throughout the years have been extremely important to the success of the Lakers, Gene Tormohlen would probably have a difficult time getting into a Lakers game in Los Angeles without a credential. The Lakers' long-time scout lives in Georgia and, despite his anonymity among Lakers fans, his diligent work behind the scenes has proven to be a vital contribution to the club over the past ten seasons.

"Bumper", as he is known throughout the NBA, is beginning his 26th season in the scouting business. He served as an assistant coach and scout with the Atlanta Hawks for eight years and as a scout with the Chicago Bulls for seven seasons before joining the Lakers prior to the 1983-84 campaign.

The 6'9" native of Holland, Indiana was a two-time All- SEC performer at Tennessee, serving as captain of the Vols as a senior. Gene played for the St. Louis Hawks for six years, retiring when the club moved to Atlanta in 1968.

He also played with the amateur Cleveland Pipers of the National Industrial Basketball League, leading the team to league and AAU titles in his second season, and played with the Kansas City Steers of the American Basketball League for two years.

Gene works out of his home in Lawrenceville, Georgia, where he lives with his wife, Julie, and two children, Gina and Tommy, who was an honorable mention All-American last year, averaging 23.9 ppg for Berry College (NAIA).

STU LANTZ

Color Commentator

During his career as an NBA player, Lakers' commentator Stu Lantz often found himself sharing the spotlight with one of several superstar teammates, including former NBA great "Pistol" Pete Maravich. Years later, Lantz finds himself working alongside another legend off the court — play-by-play man Chick Hearn. As with Maravich, Stu has adjusted admirably to the situation, knowing precisely when to get in his shots.

As Stu begins his seventh year alongside Hearn, his insight remains a valuable part of each Laker broadcast. In fact, Stu has amassed something of a consecutive game streak himself, having not missed a broadcast since his appointment prior to the 1987-88 campaign (568 including playoffs). Only one other color commentator (Lynn Shackelford) has been Chick's sidekick longer than Stu.

A graduate of the University of Nebraska in 1968, Stu concluded his collegiate career with 1,269 career points and was an All-Big Eight selection twice. On October 17, 1989, during halftime ceremonies of the Lakers/Suns pre-season game in Lincoln, Nebraska, the Cornhuskers officially retired his #22 jersey.

Stu was originally a third round draft choice of the San Diego Rockets in 1968. He spent his first three seasons in San Diego and enjoyed his best pro campaign in 1970-71, averaging a career-high 20.6 points for the Rockets.

He also played for the Detroit Pistons and New Orleans Jazz before being traded to the Lakers in December of 1974. Stu appeared in 109 regular season games for the Lakers between 1974-76, sitting out the 1976-77 campaign due to a back injury before announcing his retirement. Immediately following his playing career, he embarked on a broadcasting career. He served as a commentator for the San Diego Clippers, San Diego State University, UNLV and CBS. Two years ago, Stu served as color commentator on the NBA Radio Network throughout the NBA playoffs.

Stu also stays close to the game in the summer by assisting in the operation of the renowned Pete Newell Big-Man Camp, as well as a shooting camp in the San Diego area.

Perhaps Stu's greatest off-the-court accomplishment occurred in Cleveland during the 1991-92 season, when he ate eleven Dove Bars in a single day.

Stu and his wife, Linda, live in San Diego with their three children, Todd, Kristin and Shane.

CHICK HEARN

Play-By-Play Broadcaster

As the lone play-by-play man in Los Angeles Lakers history, Chick Hearn enters his 34th season of providing NBA fans with his colorful and entertaining "words-eye-view." Still chirping enthusiastically after all these years, Chick begins the 1993-94 campaign with a string of 2,610 consecutive Laker broadcasts (regular season and playoffs), having last missed a game on November 20, 1965.

Chick reached an almost unfathomable milestone on March 13, 1992 at Cleveland, broadcasting his 2,500th consecutive game, a feat he considers to be the highlight of his career. Having been blessed with good health (although he has broadcast many games when he was ill), the Aurora, Illinois native has missed only two games since assuming his present position in 1961.

Such dedication and excellence has perched Chick at the pinnacle of his profession. "Golden Throat" earned the ultimate award for an announcer on May 9, 1991, when he was inducted into the Basketball Hall of Fame, becoming only the third Radio/TV personality to receive such an honor.

It was an honor most certainly deserved for a man who exhibits as much enthusiasm and vibrance today as he did when he broadcast his initial Lakers' game during the 1961 playoffs (the club did not broadcast any regular season games during their first season in Los Angeles).

Born Francis Dayle Hearn, Chick grew up in Aurora, Illinois and attended Bradley University. He was given the nickname "Chick" when, as an AAU basketball player, he was handed a box of sneakers only to be surprised to find a chicken inside. This past summer, Chick's hometown saluted their local hero for his outstanding accomplishments during a festive dinner, with the mayor of Aurora proclaiming June 3rd as "Chick Hearn Day" in the Illinois city from that point forward.

Chick came to Los Angeles in 1956 to broadcast USC football and basketball, and later did a nightly radio sports show that earned him two Emmy Awards in the 1960's. He joined the Lakers shortly thereafter, personally witnessing the careers of players from Jerry West to Magic Johnson and, of course, six NBA championships.

Although best known for his work with the Lakers, Chick has broadcast an assortment of sporting events, including NCAA and NFL football, UNLV basketball, PGA golf tournaments, the first Ali-Frazier fight, the Rose Bowl, professional tennis and Bowling for Dollars.

Nationally known and respected, Chick spent part of the summer of 1992 providing the fans of North America with his unique commentary, broadcasting games on NBC's Triplecast for the gold-medal winning United States' Olympic basketball team in Barcelona, Spain.

Chick's near-non-stop work schedule also includes numerous commercials and movie appearances, while his quick wit makes him a popular after-dinner speaker. Eight years ago, he recorded a hit rap record, "Wrap Around", and he also helped create "Chick's Dream Game" fantasy tapes. He has received a Golden Mike Award and has twice been named National Sportscaster of the Year.

Included among Chick's other career highlights are "Chick Hearn Night", which the team held in his honor on March 28, 1981, and the rainy day in the fall of 1986, when a star bearing his name was installed on Hollywood Boulevard's "Walk of Fame."

Chick and his wife, Marge, live in Encino.

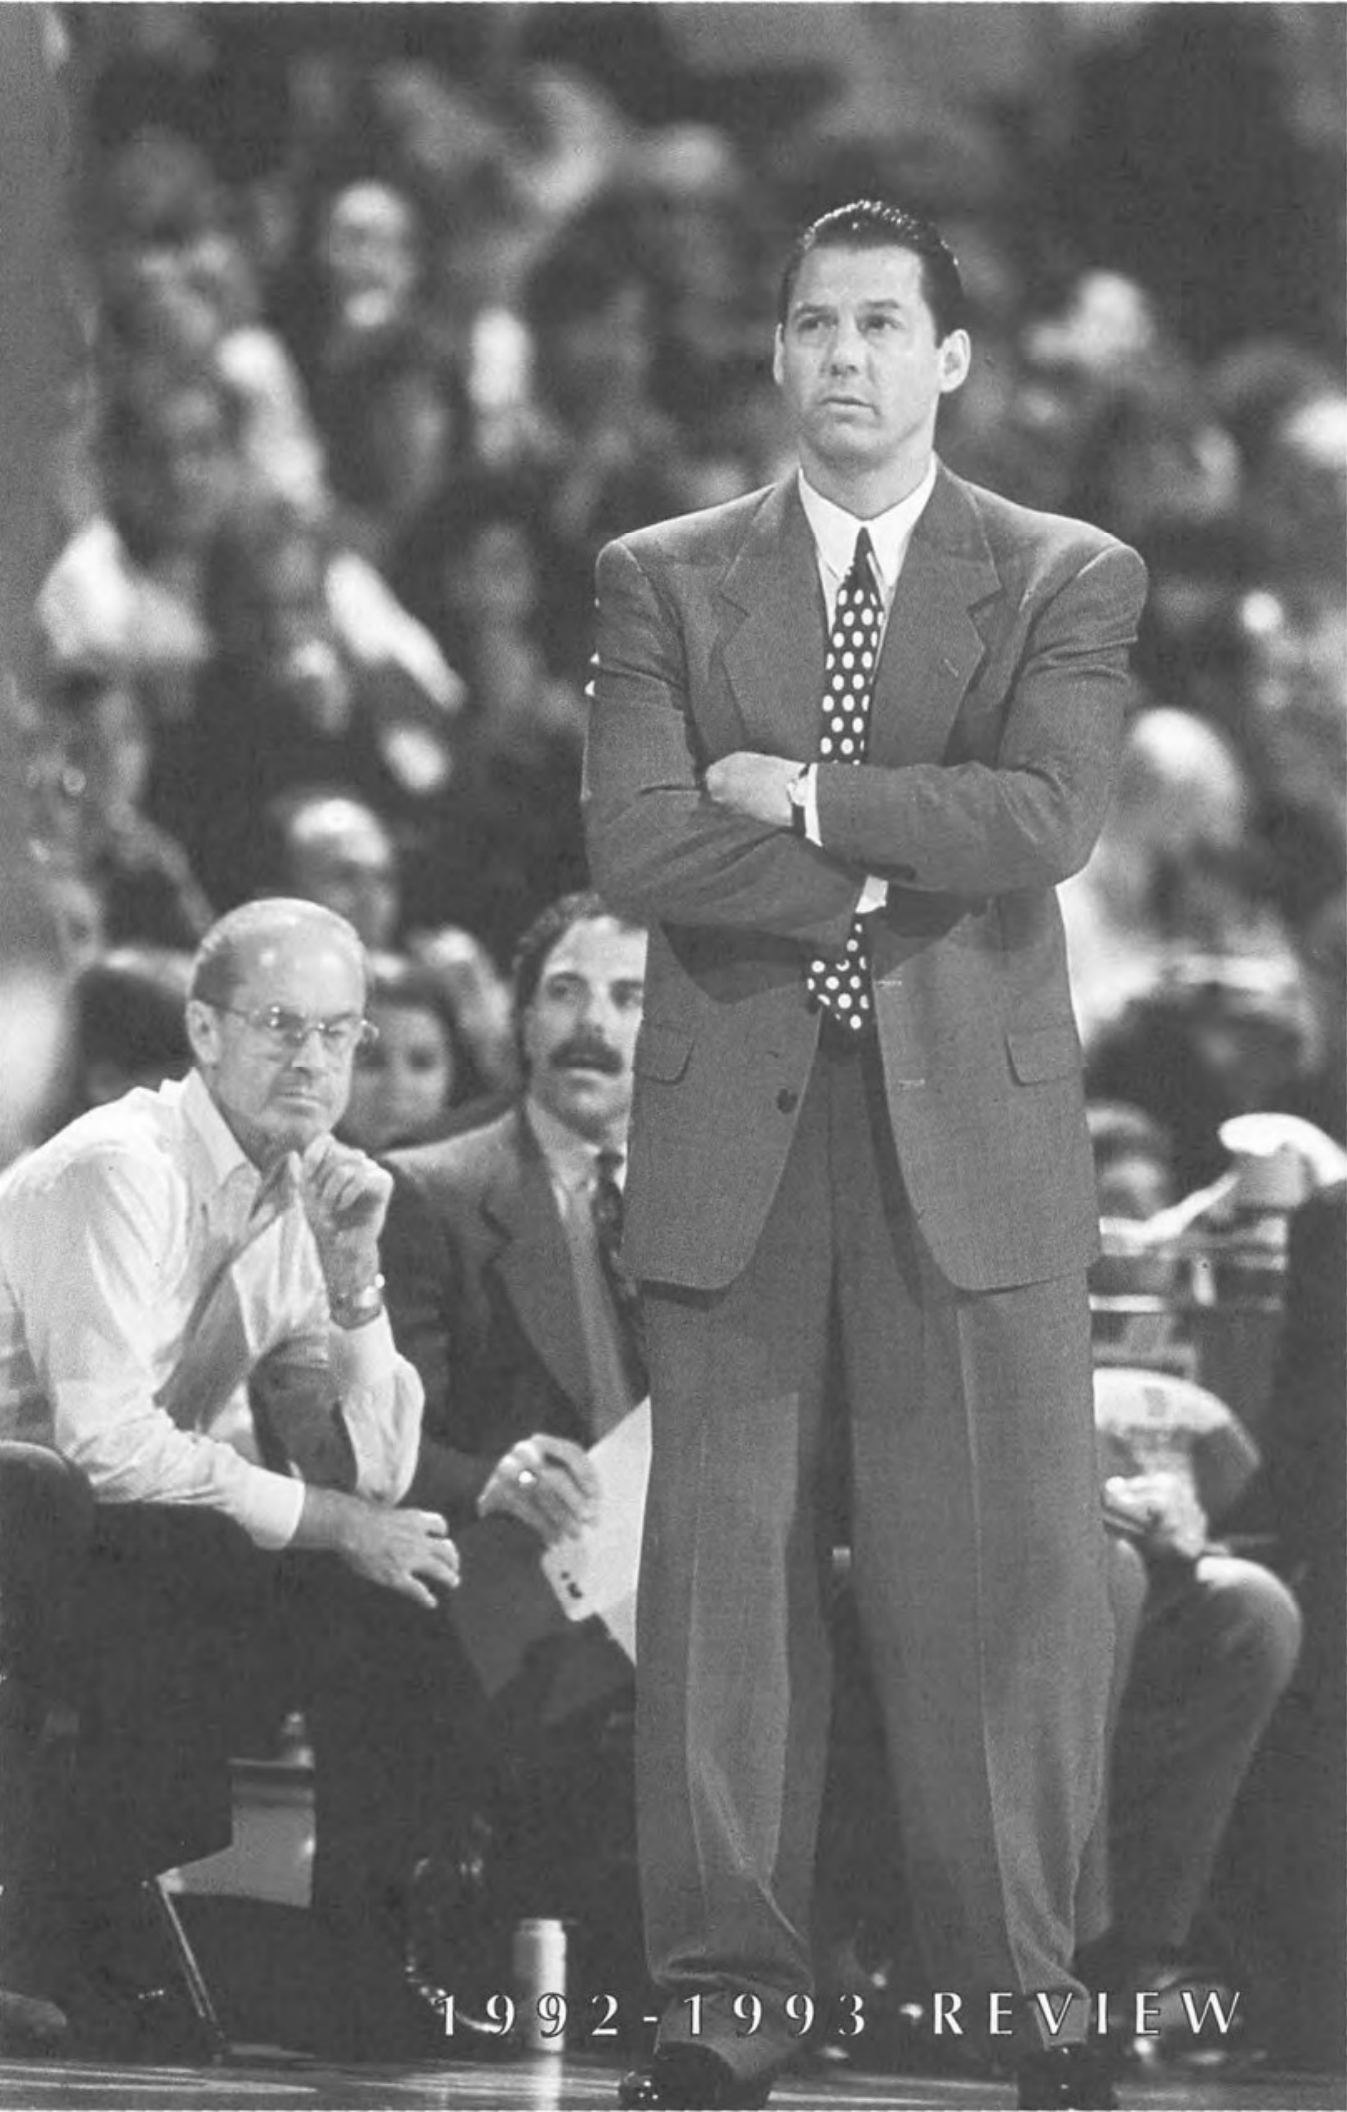
Dr. Arthur Bartner, USC Band Director

THE LAKERS BAND

The Los Angeles Lakers Band is comprised of members of the University of Southern California Marching Band and they have been performing at Lakers games since the 1979-80 season.

The USC Band has been under the direction of Dr. Art Bartner since 1969. Under his leadership, the Trojan Marching Band has become one of the country's most visible and active collegiate band programs. To assist the dedicated student band members, the Arthur C. Bartner Endowment was established initially through a significant contribution by Lakers owner Jerry Buss. A Jerry Buss/Los Angeles Lakers Award, in the form of a scholarship, is given annually to a deserving band member.

The 25 piece Lakers Band ensemble will continue to entertain Lakers fans this season with an array of familiar tunes.



1992-1993 REVIEW

LOS ANGELES LAKERS 1992-93 DIARY

OCTOBER 9

After spending the previous seven seasons as an assistant under both Pat Riley and Mike Dunleavy, RANDY PFUND conducts his first official workout as head coach of the Lakers, welcoming 15 players - including four rookies - to training camp at the University of Hawaii in Honolulu.

OCTOBER 16

The Lakers begin their eight-game pre-season schedule with a 124-112 triumph over the Portland Trail Blazers at the Blaisdell Center in Honolulu, Hawaii. MAGIC JOHNSON, appearing in his first game since October 23, 1991 (pre-season encounter vs. Milwaukee), scores five points and dishes out a game-high 14 assists for the victorious Lakers.

OCTOBER 20

Rookies ANTHONY PEELER (15) and DUANE COOPER (14) combine for 29 points as the Los Angeles reserves outscore their Philadelphia counterparts by 40 points (82-42) during a 138-111 win over the Sixers in first round action of the GTE Everything Pages Shootout at the GW Forum.

OCTOBER 23

A.C. GREEN leads eight Los Angeles players in double figures with a game- high 22 points as the Lakers run past the Sacramento Kings, 133-117, at the San Diego Sports Arena. MAGIC JOHNSON, who handed out 14 assists in each of his first two pre-season outings, records 13 more as Los Angeles improves to a perfect 3-0 with the three-time MVP in the lineup.

OCTOBER 27

Former University of Missouri All-American ANTHONY PEELER returns to his former home state for the first time as a professional, scoring a game-high 22 points - including 17 in the fourth quarter - as the Lakers crown the Sacramento Kings, 119-102, in St. Louis.

OCTOBER 30

The Lakers conclude the 1992 preseason with a 5-3 record following a 103-92 loss to the Cleveland Cavaliers in Chapel Hill, North Carolina. The Lakers, who shoot only .370 from the floor (37-of-98), receive a combined 31 points from former Tar Heels SAM PERKINS (19) and JAMES WORTHY (12). Guard MAGIC JOHNSON plays in what proves to be his final game prior to announcing his re-retirement (8 points, 4 assists).

NOVEMBER 2

MAGIC JOHNSON, who announced his intentions to resume his NBA career on September 29, announces his retirement from professional basketball. Johnson appeared in five of the Lakers' eight preseason games, averaging 10.4 points and a team-leading 11.8 assists in 26.6 minutes.

NOVEMBER 5

The Lakers trim their active roster to the opening night 12-man limit by waiving guard/forward SEAN HIGGINS and placing center JACK HALEY (knee surgery) on the injured list and guard MAGIC JOHNSON on the voluntarily retired list.

NOVEMBER 6

The Lakers open the new NBA campaign on the road for the 29th time in 33 seasons since moving to Los Angeles, defeating the Clippers at the Sports Arena, 114-112, in overtime. BYRON SCOTT, who sinks a game-winning jumper with 13.1 seconds remaining in OT, scores a season-high 29 points as the Lakers shoot .561 from the floor (46-of-82).

NOVEMBER 8

The Sacramento Kings end a 43-game losing streak at the GW Forum, spoiling the Lakers home opener, 124-112. The Kings, paced by Mitch Richmond's team-leading 29 points, had not won in Los Angeles since October 20, 1974.

NOVEMBER 10

The Lakers, after leading by 13 points early in the fourth quarter, stave off a late Golden State rally to defeat the Warriors, 107-106, in Oakland. The win is Los Angeles' second of the season by three points or less, a category in which they will eventually lead the league for the second consecutive season (13).

NOVEMBER 20
The Lakers overcome a 14-point deficit (equalling their largest comeback of the season) to defeat the world champion Chicago Bulls, 120-118, in overtime at the GW Forum. Chicago's Michael Jordan scores an opponents season-high 54 points for the Bulls, establishing an all-time record for an opponent at the GW Forum. SAM PERKINS (26) and JAMES WORTHY (23) combine for 49 points for the victorious Lakers. Guard BYRON SCOTT misses the first of 18 consecutive games due to a sore right foot.

NOVEMBER 22
SEDALE THREATT scores a team season-high 32 points as the Lakers win their third straight game, 119-107, over the Denver Nuggets in Los Angeles. Threatt tallies additional team season-highs in points for a quarter (17 in first) and a half (21 in first). Center VLADE DIVAC, who scores 27 points, establishes a career-high with 20 field goal attempts (12-of-20).

NOVEMBER 27
The Lakers, the lone Western Conference team to boast a break-even record all-time in Portland, defeat the Trail Blazers, 98-90, at the Memorial Coliseum. Rookie ANTHONY PEELER scores 16 points in reserve as the Lakers capture their third win in four road outings.

NOVEMBER 29
The Lakers record their most lopsided victory ever over Dallas, drubbing the Mavericks, 114-85, at the GW Forum (29 points). The game is never in doubt as Los Angeles sprints out to a 28-12 advantage after one quarter, limiting Dallas to an opponents season-low point total for a quarter.

DECEMBER 3
Guard TONY SMITH, starting his seventh consecutive game in place of the injured BYRON SCOTT, tallies 18 points - including 16 in the second half - as the Lakers top the Rockets in Houston, 95-89. Los Angeles limits Houston to opponent season lows in both free throws made (4) and attempted (8).

DECEMBER 4
The Lakers succumb in their first-ever visit to Phoenix's new America West Arena, 103-93. The victorious Suns receive 55 points from their reserve unit, including 16 from rookie Oliver Miller. SAM PERKINS leads the Lakers with a game-high 25 points.

DECEMBER 6
Veteran A.C. GREEN appears in his 500th consecutive regular season game as the Lakers defeat the Minnesota Timberwolves, 107-85, at the GW Forum. Green, who currently boasts the ninth longest active playing streak in NBA history, scores 16 points off the bench, as the Los Angeles reserves outscore their Minnesota counterparts, 60-6.

DECEMBER 9
Shooting a season-high .640 from the floor (48-of-75), the Lakers blitz the Portland Trail Blazers, 124-111, at the GW Forum. In defeating Portland for the third straight time (dating back to last season), the Lakers sprint out to a 17-point halftime lead (63-46) and never look back. SEDALE THREATT leads Los Angeles with a team-high 26 points, while JAMES WORTHY dishes out a season-high 12 assists.

DECEMBER 11
VLADE DIVAC records a career-high seven blocked shots as the Lakers trounce the Washington Bullets, 118-93, at the GW Forum. SAM PERKINS, scoring a game- high 25 points, sinks 12-of-14 field goals for the Lakers, who never trail after going on a 12-0 run early in the first quarter.

DECEMBER 13
Former Lakers head coach Mike Dunleavy returns to the GW Forum for the first time as coach of Milwaukee, watching his Bucks bow to the Lakers, 114-96. Rookie ANTHONY PEELER tallies a team-leading 21 points in his third straight starting assignment for the Lakers, who establish season-highs in both free throws made (35) and attempted (50). With the win, Los Angeles finishes a four game homestand with a 4-0 record, winning by an average of 19.5 ppg.

DECEMBER 15
The Lakers win their season-high fifth consecutive game compliments of a 107-101 verdict over the Spurs in San Antonio. The win improves Los Angeles' record to 13-6, a season-high seven games above the .500 mark. In defeat, the Spurs establish an all-time opponents record with 10 three-pointers (eclipsed later in the season by Houston).

DECEMBER 16
The Dallas Mavericks limit the Lakers to a season-low 11 points in the fourth quarter (low for any quarter), handing Los Angeles a 102-95 loss at Reunion Arena.

DECEMBER 18
Charles Barkley (25) and Cedric Ceballos (24) combine for 49 points, leading the Phoenix Suns to a 116-100 triumph over the Lakers at the GW Forum. The Suns - behind Barkley's 23 boards - outrebound Los Angeles, 60-36, recording opponent season-highs in both total rebounds (60) and offensive rebounds (26).

DECEMBER 23
Playing most of the second half without starting guard SEDALE THREATT (mild concussion), the Lakers fall to the Seattle Supersonics, 80-79 at the GW Forum. Los Angeles' point total (79) represents a season-low, as does Seattle's fourth quarter (14) and second half (30) outputs (for an opponent).

DECEMBER 28
The Lakers, after building an 18-point first quarter lead (32-14), succumb in the first game of a six-game road trip, 107-96, at Miami. The setback is Los Angeles' first- ever against the Heat, who had lost each of the previous ten meetings between the two clubs. Former USC star Harold Miner scores 12 of his 18 points in the fourth quarter, which began with the score tied (70-70). In defeat, Los Angeles equals an all-time record low in field goal attempts (67).

DECEMBER 30
The Lakers overcome a 23-point, 23-rebound effort by rookie sensation Shaquille O'Neal and defeat the Magic, 96-93, in Orlando. Los Angeles, breaking a three-game losing streak, receives a team-leading 21 points from SAM PERKINS, while Orlando is paced by Dennis Scott's game-high 30 points.

JANUARY 2
The Lakers, outrebounded for the fourth consecutive game (50-35), begin the new year with a 106-91 loss to the Cavaliers in Cleveland. After trailing by only two at halftime (58-56), Los Angeles manages only 35 second half points, a season-low.

JANUARY 3
Spearheaded by nearly flawless play and outstanding shooting (.553), the Bucks defeat the Lakers in Milwaukee for the seventh consecutive time, 109-101. The victorious Bucks commit only five turnovers, equalling an all-time low for a Los Angeles opponent. The Lakers succumb despite outrebounding Milwaukee by 15 boards (46-31).

JANUARY 5
JAMES WORTHY (two free throws) and VLADE DIVAC (17-foot jumper) provide crucial points down the stretch, leading the Lakers to a 91-88 win over the Bulls in Chicago.The win gives the Lakers a season series sweep over the defending world champion Bulls (2-0), in addition to their second triumph in as many years at Chicago Stadium.

JANUARY 6
The Lakers record their largest margin of victory on the road in 1992-93, downing the Timberwolves, 98-78, in Minneapolis. Los Angeles limits Minnesota to several opponent season-lows, including points (78), field goal percentage (.349) and field goals made (30). The win enables the Lakers to conclude their six game road trip with a 3-3 record.

JANUARY 10
Miami's Kevin Edwards scores a game-high 25 points as the Heat become the first of the NBA's four most recent expansion teams to record a victory at the GW Forum, 101- 89, over the Lakers (previously 0-20).

JANUARY 15
The Lakers improve to 3-0 against Portland in 1992-93, defeating the Trail Blazers, 99-96, in Los Angeles. SEDALE THREATT scores a team-leading 22 points for the Lakers, who open the fourth quarter with a decisive 10-0 run and assure themselves of a season series victory over the Blazers for the first time in four years.

JANUARY 18
Houston's Vernon Maxwell equals an all-time opponents record (his own) with six three-pointers, leading the Rockets to a 110-90 win over the Lakers at the GW Forum. Maxwell, who drains all of his threes in the first half (opponents record), tallies a game-high 24 points for the Rockets, who establish an all-time opponents team record with 11 three- pointers overall (11-of-17).

JANUARY 22
Despite committing only a season-low seven turnovers, the Lakers fall to the Jazz, 98-94, in the first game of a six game road trip at Salt Lake City. John Stockton records an opponents season-high 18 assists for the Jazz.

JANUARY 24
SAM PERKINS records the first triple double of his career (16 points, 13 rebounds, 10 assists), propelling the Lakers to a 112-110 overtime win over the Bullets in Washington. Perkins becomes the first Los Angeles player to register a triple double since April 2, 1991 (Magic Johnson @ San Antonio).

JANUARY 26
New Jersey's backcourt combination of Kenny Anderson (28 points) and Drazen Petrovic (20) outscore their Los Angeles counterparts (SEDALE THREATT and BYRON SCOTT) 48-9, leading the Nets to a 106-91 decision over the Lakers in New Jersey. Threatt fails to make a field goal (0-of-7) for the first time since joining the Lakers (121 games), who are significantly outrebounded by the Nets (56-33).

JANUARY 28
The Indiana Pacers record the highest point total against the Lakers in one half (74 in first) since November 6, 1984, en route to a 127-110 win in Indianapolis. Rookie ANTHONY PEELER tallies a career-high 25 points for the Lakers, sinking a team season-best 13-of-13 free throws.

JANUARY 29
The Lakers reach the halfway point of the 1992-93 campaign (21-20) with a 123-108 win over the Hornets in Charlotte. BYRON SCOTT scores a game-high 27 points for the Lakers (11-of-17 FGs) during a game in which both teams shoot exceptionally well (Lakers .548, Hornets .554).

JANUARY 31
The Lakers conclude their six-game road trip (3-3) with a 96-87 win over the Celtics in Boston, the club's fifth win in seven games at the Garden. ANTHONY PEELER and SEDALE THREATT tally 16 points apiece for the Lakers, who limit Boston to 57 points in the final three quarters (18, 19, 19).

FEBRUARY 5
The Lakers suffer their second worst loss of the season, falling to the Suns 132-104 in Phoenix. The victorious Suns establish several season-highs for a Los Angeles opponent, including points (132), third quarter points (37) and field goals made (56).

FEBRUARY 8
DUANE COOPER and A.C. GREEN sink a pair of crucial three pointers in overtime as the Lakers hand the Dallas Mavericks their 20th consecutive road loss, 108-100, at the GW Forum. SAM PERKINS equals his Los Angeles career-high with 17 rebounds.

FEBRUARY 10
Despite A.C. GREEN'S second career ejection, the Lakers defeat the Denver Nuggets, 111-102, at the GW Forum. Los Angeles converts 29-of-33 free throws during the win (.879).

FEBRUARY 14
Seven Los Angeles players score in double figures as the Lakers pummel the Atlanta Hawks, 135-96, at the GW Forum. DUANE COOPER dishes out a game-high 11 assists for the Lakers, the most for a Los Angeles rookie in 13 years (MAGIC JOHNSON). Los Angeles, in recording their largest margin of victory of the season (39 points), records season- highs in points (135), first half points (69) and field goals made (59). The win is the Lakers most lopsided since a 39-point decision over Miami 1/7/90.

FEBRUARY 18
JAMES WORTHY becomes the fifth player in club history (63rd in NBA history) to reach the 15,000 career point plateau, leading the Lakers with a game-high 26 points during a 105-103 loss to the Trail Blazers in Portland. The Lakers, who lead 99-91 late in the fourth quarter, are outscored 14-4 down the stretch. With the loss, Los Angeles enters the All- Star break with a 26-23 record.

FEBRUARY 22
The Lakers trade veteran forward SAM PERKINS to the Seattle Supersonics in exchange for center BENOIT BENJAMIN and the rights to rookie guard/forward DOUG CHRISTIE. The roster transaction is the first of the season for the Lakers, who are the last NBA team to execute a roster move in 1992-93.

FEBRUARY 26
Prior to suffering a 114-102 loss to the Cleveland Cavaliers at the GW Forum, the Lakers sign rookie DOUG CHRISTIE to a contract. Christie is subsequently placed on the club's suspended list, enabling him to practice with the team and become acclimated with coach RANDY PFUND'S system.

FEBRUARY 28
A.C. GREEN scores a season-high 30 points (second highest output of career), leading the Lakers to a 124-112 win over the Clippers at the GW Forum. The Lakers outscore their cross town rivals, 26-14, down the stretch, including 10 points from JAMES WORTHY.

MARCH 3
The Lakers capture their third consecutive win of the season against Golden State, topping the injury-depleted Warriors, 117-111, in Oakland. A.C. GREEN plays the entire 48 minutes for the Lakers, becoming the first Los Angeles player to do so since 4/19/92 (SEDALE THREATT).

MARCH 5
The Lakers win their fifth consecutive overtime contest of the season (sixth straight overall), handing the Philadelphia 76ers a 101-97 loss at the GW Forum. JAMES WORTHY sinks a three-pointer with 1.6 seconds remaining in regulation to force the extra session, during which the Lakers make 6-of-9 shots to preserve the victory. BYRON SCOTT, who scores a team-leading 22 points, records the 500th three-point field goal of his career in the first quarter. The victorious Lakers collect a season-high 64 rebounds, including a career-high 21 from VLADE DIVAC (first Los Angeles player to grab 20-plus rebounds since Kareem Abdul-Jabbar 11/15/81).

MARCH 7
The Charlotte Hornets record their first-ever win at the GW Forum, defeating the Lakers, 105-101. Charlotte overcomes a 20-point first half deficit, equalling the largest comeback for a Los Angles opponent during the 1992-93 season. Los Angeles center VLADE DIVAC is ejected for the first time in his career with 5:16 remaining in the third quarter.

MARCH 9
SEDALE THREATT dishes out a career-high-tying 15 assists and JAMES WORTHY tallies a team-leading 28 points, leading the Lakers to a 123-121 victory over the Pistons in Detroit. Worthy drills 3-of-3 three-pointers in the fourth quarter, helping the Lakers overcome a 41-point performance by Detroit's Joe Dumars.

MARCH 10
The New York Knicks defeat the Lakers, 110-94, for their first win over Los Angeles at Madison Square Garden since January 3, 1984. The Lakers, who led by as many as seven points in the first half, had won eight consecutive games against the Knicks in the Big Apple.

MARCH 12
Rookie DOUG CHRISTIE, acquired by the Lakers on February 22nd, appears in his first NBA game, playing nine scoreless minutes (one rebound, one assist) during Los Angeles' 101-95 triumph at Philadelphia. Christie, who had been on the club's suspended list, was activated earlier in the day after the Lakers placed rookie forward ALEX BLACKWELL on the injured list (prostate problem).

MARCH 14
With the city of Atlanta buried under 18 inches of snow, the Lakers fall to the Hawks 117-107 before a sparse gathering at the Omni. The Lakers, trailing by only three points entering the fourth quarter (90-87), are outscored 11-2 to begin the final period, erasing any hopes of a victory.

MARCH 15
The Lakers conclude their final extended road trip of the season with a 3-2 mark following a 92-87 win over the Spurs in San Antonio. The win extends a streak which has seen Los Angeles post a break-even or better record on 10 consecutive road trips (five games or longer) dating back to the 1988-89 campaign.

MARCH 17
The Lakers begin their longest homestand in six years (six games) on a negative note, losing to the San Antonio Spurs, 101-100. The two clubs conclude the season series having split four games (2-2), with the road team capturing each victory (first time ever).

MARCH 19
The Boston Celtics establish an all-time opponents record with 49 points in the fourth quarter, overcoming a 20-point deficit to hand the Lakers a 129-119 defeat at the GW Forum. During their record-setting final period, the Celtics equal an all-time opponents record by sinking 15-of-16 field goals (.938), including their final 15 attempts.

MARCH 24
During the Lakers' 120-105 loss to Phoenix, veteran forward A.C. GREEN collects his 5,000th career rebound, becoming the eighth Los Angeles player to reach that plateau. The setback is the Lakers' fifth consecutive at home, establishing a new Los Angeles franchise record.

MARCH 26
New York reserve Anthony Mason scores 30 points - a season-high for an opponent reserve - as the Knicks top the Lakers, 105-95, at the GW Forum. A.C. GREEN plays only four minutes for Los Angeles prior to being ejected early in the first quarter.

MARCH 28
The Lakers snap a franchise record six-game home court losing streak with a 92- 90 win over the Indiana Pacers. Tied after three quarters (70-70), Los Angeles outscores an opponent in the fourth period (22-20) for the first time in nine games to secure the victory.

MARCH 31
Christian Laettner (28) and Michael Williams (24) combine for 52 points as the Minnesota Timberwolves capture their first-ever win at the GW Forum, 126-113. The Timberwolves shoot an opponents season-high .627 (47-of-75) from the floor, the highest percentage for a Los Angeles foe since March 1, 1986 (Phoenix .639).

APRIL 4
Forward JAMES WORTHY is relegated to reserve duty for the first time since November 1, 1984 as the Lakers fall to the Utah Jazz, 111-99, in Los Angeles. In defeat, center VLADE DIVAC converts a career-best 10-of-10 attempts from the free throw line.

APRIL 6
The Lakers overcome a 20-point fourth quarter deficit before succumbing to the Suns, 115-114, in Phoenix. Trailing by two (114-112) with 1.6 seconds remaining, the Suns' Dan Majerle sinks a 32-foot three-pointer at the buzzer, providing Phoenix with the winning margin. With the victory, Phoenix becomes only the second Western Conference team ever to sweep the Lakers in a season series (5-0, joining Portland).

APRIL 8
After winning six consecutive overtime battles dating back to last season, the Lakers suffer a 122-116 overtime loss against the Warriors in Oakland. The Warriors, paced by Latrell Sprewell's career-high 36 points, outrebound the Lakers 57-39, including 25-11 on the offensive glass.

APRIL 11
The Lakers break a season-long six game losing streak and spoil Sam Perkins' return to the GW Forum, defeating the Seattle Supersonics, 98-96.

APRIL 16
The Lakers shoot a season-low .367 from the floor (33-of-90) and fall to the Houston Rockets for the second time in four days, 100-84, at the GW Forum. Rookies ANTHONY PEELER and DOUG CHRISTIE score a team-leading 15 points apiece for the Lakers, who suffer their 21st homecourt loss of the season, establishing an all-time Los Angeles record.

APRIL 18
The Lakers clinch their 17th consecutive playoff berth compliments of a 115-112 win over the Golden State Warriors at the GW Forum. Rookie ANTHONY PEELER, who does not play in the second half due to a hip pointer, converts a pair of free throws to increase his streak to 31 straight.

APRIL 20
For the first time in six weeks, the Lakers win back-to-back games, defeating the Timberwolves, 107-95, in Minneapolis. ANTHONY PEELER tallies a reserve-leading 18 points for Los Angeles, although his consecutive free throw streak comes to an end at 32.

APRIL 21
The Lakers lose for the eighth time in their last 10 visits to Salt Lake City, falling to the Jazz, 113-102. Trailing 79-69 with 3:47 remaining in the third quarter, the Jazz use a 23-4 spurt to assume a lead they will never relinquish. The loss - the Lakers' 42nd of the season - assures Los Angeles of finishing the season with a losing record for the first time since the 1975-76 campaign (40-42).

APRIL 23
The Lakers suffer their worst loss of the season, falling to the Supersonics, 122-93, in Seattle. Los Angeles equals a season-low with 12 assists, including only two from the entire starting unit (SEDALE THREATT).

APRIL 24
A.C. GREEN (26) and VLADE DIVAC (23) combine for 49 points as the Lakers conclude the 1992-93 regular season with a 125-107 win over Sacramento at the GW Forum. The Lakers, who outshoot the Kings .500 to .468, end the season with a 28-5 mark when posting a higher field goal percentage than their opponents.

APRIL 30
SEDALE THREATT tallies a career post-season high 35 points (17-24 FGs) as the Lakers open the first round of the 1993 NBA playoffs with a stunning 107-103 triumph over the Suns in Phoenix. The win enables Los Angeles to become the first number-eight playoff seed to post a victory on the home court of a number-one seed (37-0 since 1984).

MAY 2
Improving their all-time NBA-best playoff road record to 102-130, the Lakers defeat the Suns, 86-81, in Phoenix and assume a 2-0 lead in the best-of-five first round series. Los Angeles, trailing by six (78-72) with 5:55 remaining, outscores Phoenix 14-3 down the stretch. VLADE DIVAC paces Los Angeles with 19 points, 13 rebounds, six assists and three blocked shots as the club wins despite shooting an all-time playoff low .435 from the free throw line (10-of-23).

MAY 4
Despite receiving a career playoff high 30 points from VLADE DIVAC, the Lakers fall to the Suns, 107-102, in Game 3 at the GW Forum. The loss snaps Los Angeles' 17-game first round home court winning streak.

MAY 6
Charles Barkley scores a game-high 28 points as Phoenix evens the best-of-five series (2-2) with a 101-86 verdict over the Lakers in Los Angeles. The Lakers equal their worst shooting performance of the season (.367), failing to convert .400 of their attempts in any one quarter.

MAY 9
Propelled by rookie Oliver Miller (17 points, 14 rebounds, seven blocked shots), the Suns eliminate the Lakers from the playoffs (3-2) with a 112-104 overtime decision at the America West Arena. The Lakers, after leading 95-91 with 1:08 remaining in regulation, are outscored 11-0 over the next 3:30 (end of regulation and beginning of overtime).

JUNE 21
The Lakers acquire center SAM BOWIE and a second round draft choice in 1994 from the New Jersey Nets in exchange for center BENOIT BENJAMIN. Bowie, an eight-year NBA veteran, was originally the number-two overall selection of the Portland Trail Blazers in the 1984 NBA Draft.

JUNE 30
The Lakers select 6'8" University of North Carolina forward GEORGE LYNCH with their first round choice in the 1993 NBA Draft (12th overall). NICK VAN EXEL, a 6'1" guard from the University of Cincinnati, is selected in the second round (37th overall).

JULY 12
DOUG CHRISTIE, who originally signed a one-year deal following his mid-season acquisition from the Seattle Supersonics, inks a new multi-year contract with the Lakers.

JULY 13
The Lakers sign rookie NICK VAN EXEL, their second round draft choice (37th overall), to a one-year contract. Van Exel led the University of Cincinnati in scoring (18.3), assists (4.5) and steals (1.8) as a senior.

JULY 15
The Lakers sign rookie free agent forward ANTONIO HARVEY to a contract. Harvey, who was the 1992-93 Carolina Conference Player of the Year at Pfeiffer (NC) College, averaged 14.4 points and a team-leading 7.4 rebounds for the Lakers' entry in the 1993 Southern California Summer Pro League.

JULY 21
The Lakers announce they will not tender a contract offer to unrestricted free agent guard BYRON SCOTT, ending his 10-year stint with the club. Scott, a member of three NBA championship teams with the Lakers, concluded his career with Los Angeles ranked among the club's all-time top 10 leaders in points, assists, steals and three-pointers.

AUGUST 27
Rookie forward GEORGE LYNCH, the Lakers' first round draft choice (12th overall), signs a multi-year contract with the club. Lynch, who helped lead the University of North Carolina to the 1993 NCAA Championship, concluded his collegiate career as the second all-time leading rebounder in UNC history (1,907), leading the Tar Heels in that category each of the last three seasons.

AUGUST 30
Free agent forward TREVOR WILSON inks a contract with the Lakers. The former UCLA All-American, who spent the last two seasons playing professionally in Spain, was originally a second round draft choice of the Atlanta Hawks in 1990 (36th overall).

SEPTEMBER 7
The Lakers sign rookie free agent guard DEXTER BONEY to a contract. An All-Big West Conference First Team selection as a senior at UNLV, Boney averaged 17.0 points and 5.4 rebounds for the Runnin' Rebels. He averaged 11.6 points and 2.6 rebounds while playing for the Lakers' entry in the 1993 Southern California Summer Pro League.

FOUR-POINT SCARCITY: Since the NBA instituted the three-point field goal during the 1979-80 season, the Lakers have never had a player convert a four-point play (three-pointer plus a free throw). During this same period, eight Los Angeles opponents have accomplished this feat, including two during the playoffs.

CLOSE CALL: For the second consecutive season in 1992-93, the Lakers led the NBA in games won by three points or less (13). Los Angeles concluded the 1992-93 season with a record of 13-6 in such contests, eclipsing that of Phoenix (second with 11). During the 1991-92 campaign, the Lakers amassed a league-best 12-5 mark in games decided by three points or less, meaning the club enters the 1993-94 season having won 25 of their last 36 games decided by a trio of points or fewer (.694).

YEAR-BY-YEAR CAPSULE

1961 —Lakers first season in Los Angeles after 12 years in Minneapolis...Finish in second place in the Western Division behind St. Louis...Forward Elgin Baylor winds up as the second leading scorer in the NBA with a 34.8 ppg. average...Playoffs: Defeat Detroit (3-2), but lose to St. Louis (3-4).

1962 —WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS...Lakers win the West as Jerry West averages 30.8 points and a part-time Elgin Baylor 38.3...Playoffs: Baylor averages 38.6 points and West 31.5 as the Lakers defeat Detroit (4-2), but lose to Boston (3-4) in the championship series in an overtime seventh game.

1963 —WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS...Elgin Baylor again finishes as the second leading scorer in the league as the Lakers roll to their second division title...Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3), but lose to Boston in the finals (2-4).

1964 —West and Baylor finish as the fifth and sixth leading scorers in the league, but Lakers finish in third place behind San Francisco and St. Louis...Playoffs: Lose to St. Louis (2-3) in first round.

1965 —WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS...West paces the Lakers with 31.0 ppg.—second best in the league...Playoffs: Lakers beat Baltimore (4-2) in the division finals despite the absence of the injured Elgin Baylor...Lose to Boston (1-4) in the championship. Jerry West has a record-breaking playoff, scoring an incredible 447 points for a 40.6 average in the 11 games played.

1966 —Lakers lead the NBA in scoring, averaging 119.5 ppg...West again finishes as the league's second-best scorer...Playoffs: Lakers defeat St. Louis (4-3) in the division finals, but lose the championship to Boston (3-4) in a seventh game that Boston wins by two points, 95-93.

1967 —Plagued by injuries that keep West out of the lineup for 15 games and Baylor out for 11, the Lakers slide to third place in the Western Division. Playoffs: West manages to play in only one playoff game and the Lakers bow to San Francisco (0-3) in the opening round.

1968 —WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS...Under new coach Butch Van Breda Kolff, Lakers roll to division title despite absence of West for 31 games during regular season...Baylor leads the team in scoring, rebounding and assists ...Playoffs: Lakers sweep by Chicago (4-1) and San Francisco (4-0), but lose to Boston (2-4) in championship.

1969 —WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS...Lakers start slowly, but compile nine-game win streak in Nov. that puts them in first place for the rest of the season...New Laker Wilt Chamberlain leads league in rebounds (21.1) and field goal percentage (.583)...Playoffs: Lakers lose first two playoff games but come back to beat San Francisco (4-2), then overwhelm Atlanta (4-1)...Lose to Boston (3-4) in seven games, the last game a 108-106 heartbreaker in Los Angeles.

1970 —WESTERN DIVISION CHAMPIONS...Injury jinx again hits Lakers as Wilt Chamberlain tears knee ligaments and is lost to team for regular season...Lakers finish in second place in division...Playoffs: Wilt Chamberlain back, Lakers defeat Phoenix (4-3) and Atlanta (4-0), but run out of miracles in the final series against New York, bowing to the Knicks and a hobbling Willis Reed in seven games (3-4)...Joe Mullaney coached.

1971 —PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS...Lakers finish a strong seven games ahead of San Francisco for the division crown, despite Baylor missing all but two games in the regular season. Scoring slack was taken up by Chamberlain (20.7), Happy Hairston (18.6) and Gail Goodrich (17.5)...Playoffs: Both Baylor and West are not in uniform, but Lakers still manage to upset Chicago in seven games (4-3) in the opening round...Team fails to eventual World Champion Milwaukee Bucks (1-4).

1972 —WORLD CHAMPIONS...Lakers set record as winningest team in the history of the NBA with 69 wins, and also compile a 33-game win streak—the longest streak in all professional sports, as they finish in first place in the Pacific Division by an amazing 18 games...Goodrich averages 25.9 points and West hands out a league-leading 747 assists...Playoffs: Lakers roll over Chicago (4-0) and eliminate Milwaukee (4-2) to win the Western Division...Los Angeles spots New York one game lead in the finals, but then rolls to four straight wins to gain the World Championship (4-1). In the final game Wilt Chamberlain hauls down 29 rebounds and scores 24 points as the Lakers win 114-100...Bill Sharman is voted Coach-of-the-Year.

1973 —WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS...Wilt Chamberlain becomes the first player in NBA history to shoot over 70% from the field (.727) and the Lakers have the second best record in the club's history, winning 60 and losing only 22...Playoffs: Lakers down Chicago (4-3) and Golden State (4-1) to again face New York for the championship Lakers win the first game, but Knicks' pressure defense causes Los Angeles to average 19 turnovers per game and New York wins the next four and the title (1-4).

1974 —PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS...Lakers stage a tremendous comeback in the last seven games of the season to erase Golden State's three game lead and win the crown. Their accomplishment was even more remarkable considering that they did it without last year's stalwarts, Wilt Chamberlain and Jim McMillian, and with West sidelined for 51 games...Playoffs: Lose to Milwaukee in opening round (1-4).

1975 —Jerry West retires...Cazzie Russell injures his knee and is out for the balance of the season, and the Lakers miss the NBA playoffs for the first time in 14 seasons.

1976 —New Laker Kareem Abdul-Jabbar becomes the first Laker to win the League MVP award. In one of the most convincing displays of basketball dominance, Abdul-Jabbar leads the league in rebounds, blocked shots, minutes played, is second in scoring, fifth in shooting, and second on the Lakers in steals and assists. However, Lakers are totally unable to win on the road (9-32) and are edged out of the playoffs by losing the last two games of the season at Portland and Phoenix.

1977 —PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS...Former Laker great, Jerry West, returns to the team as head coach, and in his rookie season guides the Lakers to the best record in the NBA—53-29—and the Pacific Division title...In the process, Lakers set an NBA record with 37 home wins and a team record with 21 consecutive home victories...Kareem Abdul-Jabbar wins his second straight NBA Most Valuable Player award...Playoffs: Lakers defeat Golden State (4-3) as Abdul-Jabbar averages 37 points, 18.7 rebounds, and shoots .607 from the field. In the Western Conference finals, Lakers are swept by Portland.

1978 —Five Laker players suffer broken bones in the first half of the season including center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who breaks his hand in the first two minutes of the opening game of the year when he punches Milwaukee center Kent Benson in retaliation for a thrown elbow...In addition, forward Kermit Washington is fined $10,000 and suspended 60 days for punching Houston forward Rudy Tomjanovich...In the second half of the season, with most of the players healthy, Lakers roll to a 28-13 mark, second best in the league...Playoffs: Lakers lose to Seattle (1-2) in the first round.

1979—West completes three-year reign as coach with 47-35 record and playoff elimination by Seattle for second straight year. In summer prior to 1980 season, Cooke sells his California Sports Inc. empire to Santa Monica real estate developer Jerry Buss for $67.5 million...Buss hires Jack McKinney to be head coach.

1980—WORLD CHAMPIONS...McKinney falls from bicycle Nov. 8 and Paul Westhead takes over, guiding team to Lakers' second NBA championship in their 20 years in LA...Abdul-Jabbar is MVP...Lakers win final playoff game over 76ers in Philadelphia without injured Kareem, and rookie star Magic Johnson wins playoff MVP award.

1981—Lakers open season with five consecutive wins, their best start ever in Los Angeles...On Nov. 18, Magic Johnson against Kansas City, suffers a torn cartilage in his left knee and is out for the next 45 games...Kareem Abdul-Jabbar plays brilliantly in his absence, at one point scoring 22 or more points in 33 consecutive games...Lakers record a 28-17 mark without Magic. LA finishes second in the Pacific Division to Phoenix with a 54-28 record...Playoffs: Despite the home-court advantage, Lakers stunned in opening mini-series by Houston 2-1.

1982—WORLD CHAMPIONS...Lakers got off to a slow start and Paul Westhead is fired on Nov. 19...Pat Riley takes over and the Lakers win 17 of next 20 games and open up a five game lead over Seattle in the Pacific Division...Mitch Kupchak injures his knee on Dec. 19 and is lost for year...Lakers sign free agent Bob McAdoo on Dec. 24...Lakers sweep Phoenix and San Antonio to reach NBA Finals, becoming first NBA club ever to record back-to-back series sweeps and win first game Finals vs Philadelphia to set NBA record for most consecutive playoff wins...Lakers win second World Championship in three years with a 114-104 win over 76ers in sixth game...Magic Johnson again wins MVP with a steady, 'blue-collar' performance which included 13 points, 13 rebounds and 13 assists in title game.

1983—WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS...Lakers begin the season as the first reigning champion to add the No. 1 pick in the college draft with the selection of James Worthy...Magic Johnson leads the league in assists and is named to the All-NBA First Team for the first time...Bob McAdoo misses the final 32 regular season games due to an injured toe, and James Worthy is lost for the playoffs when he suffers a broken leg in the final week of the regular-season...Lakers defeat the Portland Trail Blazers (4-1) and the San Antonio Spurs (4-2) before losing to the Philadelphia 76ers in four games in the Championship Series.

1984—WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS...Prior to the pre-season opener, Norm Nixon and Eddie Jordan are traded to the San Diego Clippers for Byron Scott and Swen Nater...Mitch Kupchak, who sat out 23 months from knee injuries, returns to the club in Nov...Magic Johnson, off to a record-pace in assists, suffers a dislocated right index finger on Dec. 2 and is lost for a month...Abdul-Jabbar breaks Wilt Chamberlain's all-time NBA FG record in Boston

Feb. 8, the team's final victory in a season-long eight-game winning streak...Jamaal Wilkes comes down with an intestinal infection in February and never regains his usual form...Abdul-Jabbar breaks Wilt Chamberlain's all-time NBA scoring record vs. Utah at Las Vegas April 5...the Lakers win their third straight Pacific Division title, eliminate Kansas City (3-0), Dallas (4-1) and Phoenix (4-2), before losing to Boston in seven games in the Championship Series.

1985 —WORLD CHAMPIONS...Jamaal Wilkes suffers torn ligaments in his left knee on Feb. 1 and is lost for the remainder of the season...close the regular season winning 31 of their last 35 games, 17 in a row at home...Byron Scott leads the league in three-point FG percentage (.433)...Lakers win their fourth straight Pacific Division title by a league-record 20 games, and set two other records by shooting .545 FG and recording 2,575 assists...eliminate the Suns (3-0) and the Blazers and Nuggets in five, before finally defeating the Celtics in a six-game Championship Series, in Boston, after eight previous failures...Kareem Abdul-Jabbar wins his second Playoff MVP trophy.

1986 —PACIFIC DIVISION CHAMPIONS...The Lakers open with four straight wins on the road and get off to the best start in club history, going 11-1,19-2 and 24-3...Kareem Abdul-Jabbar signs a one-year contract extension early in the season to play an unprecedented 18th NBA season in 1986-87...Abdul-Jabbar is named Sportsman of the Year by Sports Illustrated...Four days after scoring 40 points against New York and Patrick Ewing, Abdul-Jabbar scores 46 points, his highest-scoring game since 1975, in Houston...Magic becomes the first player to earn more than one million votes in the All-Star balloting and he's joined in the West starting lineup by Abdul-Jabbar and Worthy...Abdul-Jabbar becomes the all-time NBA leader in minutes and games played...Johnson leads the NBA in assists for the third time in his six-year career...Lakers finish 62-20 for the second year in a row, the second-best record in club history...Lakers win their fifth straight Pacific Division title by an NBA-record 22-game margin...Houston eliminates the Lakers (4-1) in the Western Conference Finals.

1987 —WORLD CHAMPIONS...The Lakers snap the Celtics' 48-game winning streak at Boston Garden with a 117-110 victory on Dec. 12...Magic Johnson averages 39.3 points and 13.3 assists over a three-game span as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar sits out with an eye inflammation, including his career-high 46 points in an over-time win at Sacramento Dec. 23...acquire Mychal Thompson from San Antonio on Feb. 13...Chick Hearn broadcasts his 2,000th consecutive game Feb. 28 at Utah...finish 65-17, the second-best record in club history, and win the Pacific Division title for the sixth year in a row...sweep Denver (3-0), eliminate Golden State (4-1), Seattle in four then defeat Boston 4-2 to win the club's fourth NBA title of the 80's...Johnson is named MVP for both the regular season and the playoffs, while Cooper is named NBA Defensive Player of the Year.

1988 —WORLD CHAMPIONS...The Lakers begin the season by winning their first eight games, the best start in club history...Earvin Johnson's 10 assists Nov 15 vs. San Antonio enable him to break Jerry West's all time club record...the club then loses six of its next nine outings, including an 85-83 loss at Milwaukee in which Abdul-Jabbar's record streak of 787 consecutive regular-season games scoring in double figures is snapped...the Lakers close that streak with a dramatic, 115-114 win in Boston on Dec 11 to start a 15-game winning streak, the second-longest in club history...Michael Cooper is suspended for fighting for one game on Jan. 23, bringing his 556 consecutive-game (including playoffs) streak to an end...Abdul-Jabbar becomes the all-time leading scorer in All-Star Game history ...finish 62-20 for the third time in four years to clinch their seventh consecutive Pacific Division title...38 of the 41 regular-season home games sell out as the club sets an all-time attendance mark by drawing 714,477, an average of 17,426 per game...eliminate San Antonio (3-0) for their fifth first-round sweep in a row, then become the first club to win three consecutive seven-game series to capture the NBA title and become the first to repeat as champions since Boston in 1968-69...James Worthy is named MVP of the Championship Series.

1989—WESTERN CONFERENCE CHAMPIONS...The Lakers open the season with a 15-3 record...lose four in a row in mid-December, part of a club-record eight-game road losing streak...the club wins its first 17 home games before losing to New York on Jan. 24, 122-117...Kareem Abdul-Jabbar is feted in his last regular-season visit to each arena...win 50 games for the 10th year in a row but fall three victories shy of extending their NBA-record, 60-win-streak to four seasons...Lakers hold off Phoenix to win their eighth consecutive Pacific Division crown by two games, their smallest margin over this reign...Magic sets club records for assists and free throw percentage and becomes the first Laker to lead the NBA from the foul line...Playoffs: Lakers reel off 11 straight wins to become the first club in NBA history to sweep three series ...reach the Conference Finals for the eighth year in a row...fall to the Detroit Pistons, 4-0, in the NBA Finals as hamstring tears sideline Johnson and Byron Scott...Johnson is voted the league's MVP for the second time in three years .

DID YOU KNOW? During Magic Johnson's illustrious 12-year NBA career with the Lakers, the club never suffered through a losing month. Prior to posting a 6-8 record in December of 1991, the Lakers had accumulated a winning record for 61 consecutive (full) months, beginning in November of 1979, Magic's rookie season.

POSTPONE THAT VACATION - AGAIN: The Lakers made their 17th consecutive post-season appearance last spring, the longest active streak in the NBA and the third longest such streak in NBA annals. In league history, only the Philadelphia 76ers (22, 1949-50 thru 1970-71) and the Boston Celtics (19, 1949-50 thru 1968-69) have earned more consecutive post-season berths than the Lakers' current streak. Additionally, the Lakers have failed to qualify for the playoffs on only three occasions during their existence (1958, 1975 and 1976).

THE GREAT WESTERN FORUM

. . . Home of the Lakers

Ground Breaking:	July 1, 1966	Basketball Capacity:	17,505
First Event:	December 30, 1967	Hockey:	16,005
	Flyers 2, Kings 2	Conventions:	19,385
First Lakers Game:	December 31, 1967	Boxing:	18,780
	Lakers 147, Rockets 118	Concerts:	19,000

From its ground breaking in 1966 it was The Forum, until December of 1988 when as the result of a major advertising agreement, the home of the Los Angeles Lakers was renamed The Great Western Forum.

The Lakers have won over 76 percent of their regular season and playoff games in The Forum since defeating the San Diego Rockets on December 31, 1967.

In 1988 the Lakers celebrated their 20th anniversary in their Inglewood home by winning the NBA title on The Forum floor for the second year in a row and the fourth time in club history.

NBA Championships aren't the only historic sporting events to be staged in the facility built by Jack Kent Cooke. On September 10, 1973, the largest live boxing gate ever on the West Coast, $475,640, was recorded when Muhammad Ali defeated Ken Norton. The first Forum concert paired Tony Bennett and Duke Ellington in 1968, and hundreds of major acts have followed. In 1989, Neil Diamond played to a record-breaking 10 sold-out performances in The Great Western Forum.

Another distinction came to The Forum in 1984 when it served as the venue for men's and women's basketball competition in the games of the XXIII Olympiad. In 1982 and again in 1989, the Los Angeles Kings skated to Miracles on Manchester I and II.

In 1979 Jerry Buss purchased The Forum from Cooke along with the Lakers and Kings for $67.5 million in what was then the largest sports transaction in history.

Annually two and one-half million spectators attend over 200 events. Since the Forum opened its doors, more than 57 million fans have been attracted to its events.

NBA'S COMMUNITY PROGRAMS

The NBA, its teams, players and coaches all share a commitment to supporting and improving the quality of life in their communities. On the national and local levels, the NBA and its 27 teams are involved in many public service initiatives.

Since 1989, the NBA and the National Basketball Players Association have worked together to address the drop-out crisis through the NBA Stay in School program. Created to urge students to graduate from high school, the program uses the popularity of NBA players and coaches to stress the importance of attitude, attendance and achievement in school, and to encourage young people to develop pride and self- esteem. NBA Hall of Famer Bob Lanier serves as national chairman of the NBA Stay in School program.

Through public service announcements on TV and radio and other awareness-building programs, the NBA and its players also support the work of the Special Olympics, CARE, the National Committee to Prevent Child Abuse, and Operation Prom/Graduation, a program that encourages high school seniors to celebrate an alcohol-free prom and graduation season. The NBA creates PSA programs in honor of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. in January and Black History Month each February, and has produced PSA's on behalf of the Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation to fight blindness. The league and its teams also address the importance to early detection in the treatment of breast cancer, in the "NBA Wives Save Lives" program.

LAKERS' COMMUNITY RELATIONS

STAY IN SCHOOL: The Lakers have followed the lead of the NBA with an extensive Stay in School program involving 10 school districts in the Los Angeles area. For the second year in a row last season, the Lakers held a one-hour "JAM" at the Great Western Forum. Over 4,000 junior high school students were chosen to attend based on their improved attendance, classwork and behavior. Not only did each student receive special gifts from Laker sponsors, but the entire team and local celebrities congratulated the deserving students and encouraged them to "Stay in School."

SPORTSWRITER CONTEST: Last season the Lakers initiated a high school sportswriter contest. Over 100 high school journalism students were invited to a luncheon where three Laker beat reporters, the Lakers Public Relations Director and a Lakers player discussed their respective jobs with the students. Each student then submitted a story about one of their high school games, from which ten finalists were selected and awarded a $100.00 savings account from Great Western Bank. Those 10 students were then invited to cover a Lakers game at the GW Forum and submit a story, similar to that of a beat writer. One winner was chosen, allowing the lucky youngster and a parent to accompany the team on a road trip to Portland aboard the team plane and write a story about the experience, which was printed in HOOP magazine.

I'M A LAKERS FAN: The Lakers sponsored the attendance of over 30,000 underprivileged individuals of all ages to attend games last season. Among the organizations the Lakers worked with were youth groups, senior centers, abused children, drug/alcohol rehabilitation centers and county probations.

FUTURE LAKERS CLUB: The top new community relations program last season was a Lakers fan club, which is geared toward children, but has no age restrictions. Members receive an official club t-shirt, membership card, player photos, pennant, button, sticker, a copy of NBA INSIDE STUFF and three special newsletters. Each member was also invited to a special "courtside" clinic at the Great Western Forum, where Lakers' coach Randy Pfund enlightened youngsters on the perils of being an NBA coach.

COMMUNITY CLINIC: Special Assistant to the General Manager Michael Cooper and Assistant Coach Larry Drew spent an afternoon at the Los Angeles Mission for the homeless last season, holding a basketball clinic for the members of the Mission team. After the clinic, Cooper participated in a scrimmage with the players while Drew coached one of the teams.

RADIO

KLAC 570 AM

The Lakers' radio network is one of the largest in the National Basketball Association, featuring 14 stations in four states. The flagship station is KLAC-570, Los Angeles. TELEVISION

KCAL

Each of the Lakers' 41 regular-season road games and all of the club's away playoff contests will once again be televised in Los Angeles. Channel 9 and the Lakers' television network will televise 40 of the club's regular-season road games, with NBC scheduled to televise the Lakers/Warriors contest from Oakland on April 23. Additionally, two of the club's preseason encounters will be broadcast on Channel 9, with one originating from the Blaisdell Center in Honolulu, Hawaii on October 15 (Lakers vs. Utah) and the other from the Thomas & Mack Center in Las Vegas on October 20 (Lakers vs. Clippers). Channel 9 and the Laker network will televise each road playoff game not aired by NBC. Chick Hearn and Stu Lantz will provide the play- by-play as part of the Radio/TV simulcast.

PRIME TICKET

PRIME TICKET

Prime Ticket will telecast 40 live regular-season home games of the Lakers in 1993-94. In addition, Prime Ticket will air the GTE "Everything Pages" Shootout on October 22 and 23 (games involving the Lakers). All available Lakers' home playoff games will be telecast on Prime Ticket, one of the world's largest regional sports networks serving more than 4.3 million cable subscribers in Southern California, Arizona, Nevada and Hawaii.

Chick Hearn will be back for his ninth consecutive season with Prime Ticket as the play-by-play announcer while Stu Lantz returns with his expert analysis.

Prime Ticket will also televise 95 National Hockey League games, including 70 Los Angeles Kings contests and 25 Mighty Ducks of Anaheim encounters. Additionally, the network will continue its extensive college basketball and football coverage, which includes USC, UCLA and Pac-10 Conference games. Other main attractions include the California Angels, boxing from the Great Western Forum and a broad menu of other sports.

"Press Box," Prime Ticket's emmy-winning live sports news show follows every Lakers home game with scores, highlights, features and interviews.

Centinela Hospital Medical Center
The Official Hospital of the Los Angeles Lakers

When the Lakers sought to protect the health and enhance the fitness of its players, the obvious choice for Lakers officials was to call the Kerlan-Jobe Orthopaedic Clinic and Centinela Hospital Medical Center.

The medical team for the Lakers is headed by orthopedists Dr. Robert Kerlan and Dr. Stephen J. Lombardo of the Kerlan-Jobe Orthopaedic Clinic, as well as a specialist in internal medicine, Dr. Michael Mellman. These physicians attend all Lakers games and check each player at half-time and after games. They also consult with the players regarding their physical problems and their personal fitness programs between games and during the off-season. The Kerlan-Jobe Orthopaedic Clinic is a world leader in the diagnosis and treatment of orthopedic and sports medicine injuries and illness, treating patients from around the globe.

Numerous professional athletic organizations have chosen Centinela Hospital as their choice for top-notch healthcare including the Dodgers, Rams, California Angels, the PGA TOUR and Senior PGA TOUR. In addition, Centinela Hospital was chosen as an "Official Hospital of the 1984 Olympic Games."

Centinela Hospital's dedication to the advancement of sports medicine led to the development of Centinela Hospital's Fitness Institute in Culver City and Biomechanics Laboratory - both instrumental in sports medicine research that will ultimately prolong the careers of athletes through fitness training and injury prevention.

Centinela Hospital's Fitness Institute has developed a sophisticated battery of tests to evaluate the health and fitness of professional athletes, business executives, policemen and firemen, in addition to tests for non-athletic individuals.

Centinela Hospital Medical Center is the "Choice of Champions."
